

Wren Music Workshops for Schools

Wren Music runs participatory workshops specialising in folk music, singing and dance. Sessions are structured to fit within your school timetable and we can work with individual classes, year groups or whole school groups depending on the activity. Please talk to us about working collaboratively with other schools to spread the cost.

All Wren Music workshops can be tailored to support different themes and elements of the curriculum and we choose repertoire carefully to ensure it is relevant. Sessions can be adapted to work with different age groups and abilities. All resources are provided and we can include a sharing performance at the end.

Wren Music leaders are highly-skilled, experienced practitioners and hold current enhanced DBS checks.

Classroom Folk Band

Learn about different folk instruments and how to play them. Create a band using simple folk tune structures. All musical instruments provided but we can work with school instruments too.

- Try out a range of different folk instruments
- Learn a simple pattern on your chosen instrument
- Learn about arranging music for a band
- Play as a band with the whole class

Singing

Explore your voice and learn new songs. Options to introduce singing in harmony, other languages and songwriting.

- Learn about warming up your voice and how to keep it healthy
- Develop language skills through singing, including different languages
- Sing in harmony
- Try writing your own song

Feet First

Learn about different folk dance steps and rhythms. Think about being active and healthy through dance. Options to include dances from other countries as well as closer to home.

- Get ready to dance - stretching and warming-up to live music
- Learn dances to do with a friend and in larger groups
- Try creating your own dance.

Folk Day

A whole day of workshops exploring three different elements of folk music - song, dance and instruments. Option to include an after-school ceilidh for children, staff and parents.
